

Welcome

You're now a Scholastic member of International SOS.

Rest assured. You have a dedicated line to our Philadelphia Assistance Center, +1.215.942.8478, which is answered by a specially-trained team who recognizes the unique needs of students, faculty, staff and others. This number can be used for medical and security assistance advice for emergencies, as well as routine advice and information when outside your home country.

Reach out to International SOS if you need a routine referral, lose your medication or have a medical or security crisis. You can also call the Dedicated Line using the International SOS Assistance App, or use the LiveChat feature. International SOS is here to help and ensure you get what you need anytime, anywhere. That's what we do best. Keep your membership card handy and add the Dedicated Line to your phone contacts as you travel and study abroad. It contains your membership number and phone numbers to access International SOS 24/7/365.

Call International SOS anytime - even before you go - so that you can speak directly with an International SOS medical or security team member to discuss the best course of action.
